Student team to represent ETH Zurich

Exhibit your project at Techkriti'13 in Kanpur, India

Techkriti'13

Techkriti is the annual technical and entrepreneurship festival organised by the students of the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Kanpur. Techkriti aims at developing interest for and encouraging innovation in technology among students.

Participation of an ETH student team

At the three-day festival, 14–17 March 2013, an ETH team of two students will have the opportunity to present their project in the exhibition space. As Techkriti is the biggest technical festival of the country and as such attracts over 20,000 visitors from all over India and abroad, the student team will be confronted with many questions about their project and the study programmes at ETH Zurich. The trip to India and the accommodation in Kanpur are covered by ETH Zurich and IIT Kanpur.

Deadline for application is 4 Jan. 2013.

Application criteria and procedure

You will present a project that

- you have developed during your studies at ETH Zurich (e.g. semester project, thesis project, focus project);
- is innovative and stands for cutting-edge technology/science;
- can be attractively demonstrated in the exhibit;
- and is easily transportable.

The two of you must be

- Bachelor's or Master's students of ETH Zurich;
- communicative and enthusiastic personalities;
- committed to setting up a professional and attractive stall;
- able and willing to travel to India (approx. from 11–18 March 2013);
- and interested in exploring the Indian culture.

To apply, please send a motivation letter and a one page description of your project (with pictures) by e-mail to romana.rutz@sl.ethz.ch.
